

Black Millwork has extended its impressive range of doors and windows to include aluminium sliding doors. As a lightweight material, aluminium is perfect for sliding doors, as it means large profile sizes can be achieved without restricting the ease of movement. Black Millwork offers a wide range of large span and bespoke aluminium sliding doors that make a stunning focal point in any property. All doors are fitted with a superior quality slide mechanism, resulting in a smooth travelling movement and, in addition, the doors can be moved from either side, offering complete flexibility.

Lightweight, contemporary and sleek

BLACK MILLWORK has extended its impressive range of doors and windows to include aluminium sliding doors, aiming to offer a "sleek and contemporary choice" for specifiers and house builders. Being a lightweight material, the use of aluminium means that large profile sizes can be achieved without restricting the ease of movement, says the firm.

All doors are fitted with what has been described as a "superior slide mechanism," designed to result in a smooth travelling movement. The doors can also be moved from either side, offering flexibility. All of Black Millwork's doors are supplied with a 10-year guarantee.
